

Weekend style essentials

VICTORIA REVAY KATE KENNEDY

Style

Planning a weekend away? Whether it's last-minute plans to visit friends at the cottage or an ultra-luxe getaway (weekend in Paris, anyone?) for two, you'll need pieces that can transition from day-to-night and casual-to-chic.

Travel wear is all about mixing and matching separates — creating as many looks as possible with just a few pieces — not to mention comfort. Vancouver-based style expert

Nadia Albano suggest “packing pieces that are neutral in colour and also versatile.”

These favourites will last you through the weekend — and won't crowd your carry-on.

✉ victoria.revay@sunmedia.ca

📱 @victoriarevay

✉ kate.kennedy@sunmedia.ca

A safe tan may be your best and most natural accessory, but Gorjana's 3 petals metal gold necklace ($75, kavut.com) and Ellie Mae's 'Surf Shop' stack ($75 each, elliemae.ca) will add that pop to your outfit without looking messy.

